Grosses
Gewächs

‘GG’ or Grosses Gewächs refer to wines made from Grosse Large or Grand cru vineyards in Germany. Unlike in France, this is not a legal classification but rather a classification of the Verband Deutscher Prädikatsweingüter ‘VDP’. The VDP is a German wine growers association dedicated to the elevation and preservation of the greatest vineyard sites in Germany. These wines must be dry in style and will normally be made from Riesling although other grapes such as Pinot Noir, known as Spätburgunder, may also be permitted to be labeled as GG. These are some of the very best examples of dry Riesling in the world, expressing both a sense of place or terroir as well as elegance and power!

HENSCHKE

150 YEARS OF FAMILY WINEMAKING

Established in 1868, Henschke is resolute in its desire for complete integration of vineyard and winery, through six generations of family grape growing and winemaking tradition in the Eden Valley and Barossa Valley. In the early 1980s, fifth-generation winemaker Stephen Henschke and his viticulturist wife Prue became pioneers of viticulture in Lenswood, a sub-region of the cool-climate Adelaide Hills wine region.

The first vines on the Hill of Grace vineyard were planted in 1860 by Nicolaus Stanitzki. The villagers built a beautiful church that same year, naming it Gnadenberg Lutheran Church, in tribute to a region in their homeland. Cyril Henschke created the first Hill of Grace in 1958 from Shiraz vines at Hill of Grace vineyard, up to 100 years old.

In 1986 Prue Henschke began a project in the Hill of Grace vineyard to select the best genetic material for vineyard replanting. This long-term project was aimed at selecting the vines that produce the most intense colour and flavour in the grapes, through a mass selection process that was carried out over three growing seasons. The resulting nursery block was established in 1989 and named 'Hill of Roses'.

It's a story of pure determination when one tells of the legendary Max Schubert. As Penfold's first chief winemaker, he was paramount in propelling the company forward, both at the national and international levels. After spending time abroad in Europe, he set his sights on making a wine 'capable of staying alive'. It was with this mind frame he came to create his experimental 'Grange Hermitage Bin 1' in 1951. Much to his dismay, the wine flopped with the public and by 1957 he was forced to shut down his project. Relentless, Schubert continued making the wine in secret and storing it away in the depths of the cellars from 1957-1959. In 1960 the project was re-ignited just in time for the harvest and Penfolds Grange took off. Here we pay homage to this history, with a vertical listing of the most celebrated vintages produced.

Iconic vintages:

- 1951 - first vintage, not released to the public
- 1952 - first commercial release of Grange
- 1955 - the most decorated Grange and the favorite of Max Schubert
- 1962 - the second most successful Grange that is becoming increasingly rare.
- 1971 - a great wine from a great South Australian vintage that won countless awards, including gold at the Gault-Millau Wine Olympiad in Paris in 1979, where it beat the best of the Rhone Valley
- 1975 - last vintage of Max Schubert
- 1976 - the first Australian wine to pass $20 at release and the first vintage for Don Ditter
- 1986 - the defining vintage of the 1980's and Don Ditter's last Grange
- 1987 - the first vintage for John Duval
- 1990 - first vintage to be released as "Grange" instead of "Grange Hermitage" and was one of the best vintages seen, rivalling that of 1955, 1962 and 1971
- 2001 - the 50th birthday of Grange and the year it was listed as a South Australian heritage icon
- 2002 - the first vintage of Peter Gago as Chief Wine Maker and the last for John Duval
- 2008 - the only Australian wine to receive 100 points from both Wine Spectator and Robert Parker in the same year
